Question 7 – possible answer

Dear Jo,

Thank you for your letter. I'm looking forward to our holiday too.

I usually go swimming and sit on the beach, when it is sunny. We can also play tennis or go for a ride. I have two bikes so you don't need to bring one. We can also walk up the hill near my house.

There is a good cinema in the town. If it rains, we can go there, or rent a video and watch it at my house. We can go shopping too, if you like.

Write to me soon.

Your friend,

Patrick

Question 8 – possible answer

I felt very excited when I got on the train. I was going to London to study at a language school. The train was very busy but I found a seat with some young people. The train started moving and I looked out the window. I tried to read a newspaper but I was too excited. Then I talked to the other boys and girls, who were very friendly. When it got dark, I studied English. The next morning, when we arrived in the station, I saw London for the first time.

I hope you get on with them.

You must try the fantastic new Chinese restaurant on Green Street.

What are you doing this weekend? I could come and see you on Sunday.

Question 7 – possible answer

Dear Susan,

Thank you for your letter. I'm going to tell you about the Epiphany. I hope it's useful for your project. On 6 January we celebrate the Epiphany and children don't go to school because it is a holiday. In Italy children leave a sock out for presents at Epiphany, not at Christmas. A good witch flies around and leaves presents for children. If you have been good, the witch puts a present in your stocking. If you have been bad, you get coal! But you can eat the coal because it's sugar coloured black!

Write to me soon,

Luca

Question 8 – possible answer

Sophie did not want to go to the party. She wanted to stay at home and watch TV. But she had promised her friend that she would go. Katie wanted to go because she liked Ryan. It was his birthday party.

Sophie and Katie walked into the room and went to give Ryan their presents. He thanked them and said, 'I must introduce you to my cousin, Chris. He's come to visit us from Australia.' Sophie turned to see the boy with the best smile she had ever seen.

And that's how my parents met each other!

Question 7 – possible answer

Dear Hannah,

Thanks for your letter. I get up at 7.30. I have a shower, get dressed and then eat breakfast. I go to work by train and I usually arrive at 9.00.

First I check my emails. Each day is a bit different.

Sometimes I have a meeting or I have to write a report.

Sometimes I have to visit one of our offices in another town. I like my job but I'm happy when it's 5.30 and I go home.

In the evening I watch television or meet my friends.

Best wishes,

Laura

Question 8 – possible answer

It was very dark and cold in the house. I had come here for a relaxing holiday from my busy job. The old lady in the village gave me the keys. When I arrived at the house it looked very different to the advertisement. I put the key in the door but it was very difficult to open. I was very surprised when I pushed the door open and walked into the house, this was not a holiday home. Then I heard a noise, someone was coming downstairs.

■ Part 3Question 7 – possible answer

Dear Neill,
Thank you for your letter. I live in a house in the country. It has three bedrooms, a kitchen, a bathroom and a big living room. We have a garden round the house. We have a garage, but we can't put our car in it because it is full of other things!
The best thing about our home is my room. It is at the top of the house, in the attic. It has a great view of the garden. I can play my music very loud because no one can hear me!
Best wishes,
Chris

Question 8 – possible answer

It was beginning to get dark when the car suddenly stopped. It was snowing and they were a long way from the nearest town. Jack looked at the engine but he had no idea what was wrong. They did not have a mobile phone with them, so they decided to start walking to the nearest town. They got very cold! After about two hours they came to a village. There was a small hotel there where they were able to get a room for the night. The next day the man from the garage told them that they had run out of petrol!

Question 7 – possible answer

Dear Alex,
I'm glad you had an exciting weekend. My weekend was also a bit different. Usually I spend my weekends doing sport and going to the cinema or to a disco with my friends.
However, this weekend my aunt invited me to go to the theatre with her. We saw the opera 'The Magic Flute'.
I'd never been to the opera before but I really enjoyed it and want to go again soon. After, we went for a meal at a very nice Greek restaurant near the theatre.
Best wishes,
Paul

Question 8 – possible answer

It was pouring with rain when Mandy left the airport.
She had got a new job at a hotel in Spain and she had thought that it would be sunny all the time. It was her first time in Barcelona and she didn't speak Spanish, so it took her a long time to find her hotel. When she arrived she was very wet and very tired. She wished she had stayed in England.

When she woke up the next morning, the sun was shining. She went downstairs and everyone was very friendly. She was very glad she had come to Spain.

Question 7 - possible answer

A SURPRISING DAY

It was the last day of our summer holidays. My parents, Spot our dog and I had spent the summer with my grandparents at the seaside. Spot loves being beside the sea but he hates travelling in the car.
Now it was time to go home. We packed the car, said goodbye to Grandpa and Grandma and called Spot. He didn't come. We looked everywhere for him but we couldn't find him. Eventually we left. Grandpa promised to find Spot and to drive him to our house later.
We were sad to leave without Spot and drove 40 miles home in silence. When we arrived, there was Spot at the front door! He had walked home all alone.

Question 8 - possible answer

Dear Tim,
Thank you for your letter. It is always good to hear from you.
I love my English lessons. They are my favourite lessons of the week. We have a very good English book with lots of interesting articles and stories in it. We often play games and learn English songs. I don't like grammar very much. That's the only problem with English for me! Our teacher is very nice. She was born in Australia. She's quite old and a little strict but she's very funny too and most of the pupils at our school enjoy her lessons. She's tall with long grey hair and she usually wears black clothes.
Tell me about your French lessons.
All good wishes
Andrea
